WE BRING OUR PUPPET SHOWS DIRECTLY TO YOUR SCHOOL!

Perfect for nursery and early to mid-primary students, each performance is brought to life by Emilia, a native English puppeteer. Our shows, created for children and family audiences, feature unique handcrafted puppets and sets, made from natural materials like wood and wool, as well as recycled objects. We take great care with both the visual aesthetics and dramaturgy in our productions, which have been featured in theatres and festivals across Catalonia, Spain, and internationally.

Each show includes a workpack with activity ideas to extend the learning experience beyond the show. Some of our stories are also available as picture books, a wonderful way to introduce children to art and literature, complementing our live shows.

Fly away caterpillar!

a puppet show

This tabletop puppet show, featuring handcrafted crocheted characters and props, tells the story of the life cycle of a butterfly, exploring themes such as physical abilities and limitations, frustration, and the importance of patience. Sometimes, when we let nature take its course, wonderful things may happen.

At a fruit and vegetable stall in the market, the greengrocer is arranging her produce when she discovers an unexpected visitor among the cabbages: a caterpillar with a big dream: to learn how to fly. No matter how hard it tries, it just can't seem to do it... or can it?

A gentle and imaginative story about the adventures we embark on when we're looking for something, perhaps even more than we thought we lost. It is inspired by a wishing tree I saw in Paphos, Cyprus. People had tied pieces of white cloth to its branches, as a ritual to make their wish come true.

Tim can't find his left shoe. He searches for it high and low until an elderly lady tells him he might find it in a very special tree: "The Shoe Tree". Following her instructions, Tim sets off, hopping on one foot, on a journey to find his lost shoe.
